

30 NAVY SUIT

COMBINATIONS

A Prologue

A suit should feel chosen.

The Blueprint is not a rulebook for becoming somebody else. It is a foundation for becoming more intentional about yourself.

We will show you the foundations, the combinations, the rules, and why the pieces work together. But ultimately, you decide. Learn the rules. Understand why they exist. Then make them your own. Because style without ownership is costume.

Style with ownership becomes identity.

Learn it. Tailor it. Personalize it. Wear it. Live in it. Then stop thinking about the suit and get on with the reason you got dressed in the first place. And when you walk through the door, don't ask the room whether you belong there.

Know why you came

OWN THE SUIT.
OWN HOW YOU SHOW UP.

A letter from Paris

I have always believed getting dressed is about more than clothes. A suit can be beautiful, expensive and perfectly tailored—and still mean very little if the man inside it has handed everyone else the responsibility of telling him who he is. That is why The Blueprint begins with ownership.

Guy Ritchie put words around an idea that stayed with me:

“if you do not own something, you are not the boss. You have to take full responsibility for what you do. You must become the master of your own kingdom.”

I don't take that to mean a man controls everything that happens to him. He doesn't. It means taking responsibility for what actually belongs to him: his choices, his preparation, his appearance, his word, his response and the work he leaves behind.

The world has rules. Menswear certainly has a few. Learn them. There is freedom in knowing what you're doing.

And as Ritchie put it:

“~~Hate the player hate the game.~~”

“Don't hate the game. Love the game. You're in it.”

Own the game. Accept the rules. Understand why they exist. Then know them well enough to bend them toward your own narrative without losing your principles. It is your story after all. This guide will show you the navy suit: the shirts, ties, shoes, structure, combinations and occasions.

But underneath all of that is one larger idea: Own the suit.

Do not wear it because someone told you a grown man should. Don't wear it hoping the label will do your introducing for you. Learn it. Tailor it. Personalize it. Know why each piece is there. Then wear it until it feels like yours.

Go to the meeting. Take her to dinner. Give the speech. Build the company. Attend the wedding. Sit with your family. Keep your word. Do the work.

The suit accompanies the story.

You are the one living it.

Paris Pullen

BE THE COMPLIMENT YOU WANT TO RECEIVE.

Inside the issue

004 M.A.D.E.
The code behind the clothes.

005 1748 / NAVAL BLUE
How the sea gave the color a name.

007 TWO HISTORIES
Court dress meets naval restraint.

008 THE SYSTEM
Four choices. Thirty answers

009 THE LOOKS
Every combination, worn with purpose.

024 THE INDEX
The complete formula at a glance.

A PARIS PULLEN LLC PUBLICATION

M.A.D.E.

We are M.A.D.E. Men and we operate like it

M — MAKE ORDER

Make your bed. Put your environment iNobody is going to applaud you for it. Good. Private standards create public character.

A — ARRIVE INTENTIONAL

Get dressed. Decide how you will show up before you enter the world. You're going to communicate before you open your mouth anyway. You may as well have a hand in the message.

D — DO THE WORK

Know the assignment. Know the names. Know the numbers. Know the room. Know your craft. Know what you promised. A good suit can get you noticed. It cannot answer the question when the room turns to you.

E — EXECUTE

Deliver. Keep your word. Finish what you started. Appearance may introduce you. Action establishes your reputation.

01

SHIRT

WHITE / LIGHT BLUE / BLACK

02

CENTER LINE

NAVY / BLACK / DARK BROWN / OPEN

03

STRUCTURE

VEST / NO VEST

04

FINISH

BLACK / BROWN / DRESS SHOES / LOAFERS

Four decisions.
Thirty results.

START WITH THE OCCASION. BUILD WITH INTENTION.

N01

N01

WHITE / NAVY / VEST / BLACK

The cornerstone. Ceremony, leadership, formal daytime.

N02

N02

WHITE / BLACK / VEST / BLACK

Sharper contrast for formal business or evening.

N03

No3

WHITE / DARK BROWN / VEST / BROWN

Traditional foundation with warmer finishing.

N04

No4

WHITE / NAVY / VEST / BROWN

Formal with a softer shoe temperature.

N05

No5

WHITE / OPEN / VEST / BLACK LOAFERS

Tailored ease. Dinner, date, creative room.

N06

No6

WHITE / OPEN / VEST / BROWN LOAFERS

Relaxed two-piece with warm finishing.

N07

No7

WHITE / NAVY / NO VEST / BROWN

The dependable business uniform.

N08

No8

WHITE / DARK BROWN / NO VEST / BROWN

Business with less severity.

N09

N09

WHITE / BLACK / NO VEST / BLACK

Direct, clean and controlled.

N10

N10

WHITE / OPEN / NO VEST / BROWN LOAFERS

Ease without giving up tailoring.

N11

N11

WHITE / OPEN / NO VEST / BLACK LOAFERS

Evening ease in black and white.

FILE 014 / COLOR HISTORY / 1748

THE SEA GAVE THE COLOR A NAME.

Discipline. Command. Depth. Authority.

Dark, but never final.

In 1748, the British Admiralty introduced the Royal Navy's first regulated officer uniforms.

Blue wool was part of that visual system—formal enough to distinguish rank, practical enough for life at sea. And even then, uniform did not mean complete sameness. Officers paid for their own garments and worked with their own tailors, leaving room for fit, fashion and small personal decisions.

Rules, with a little room to move. Sound familiar?

Over time, dark blue moved far beyond the quarterdeck. It appeared in sporting dress, club blazers and eventually civilian tailoring, carrying with it associations of restraint, discipline and authority.

In daylight, navy reveals its blue. Indoors, it can nearly become shadow.

That may be its greatest trick:

THE MODERN READING

Authority without severity.

A foundation that can lead a meeting, listen through lunch, catch a flight—and still stay for dinner.

N12

N12

LIGHT BLUE / DARK BROWN / VEST / BROWN

Warm daytime tailoring in three pieces.

N13

N13

LIGHT BLUE / NAVY / VEST / BROWN

Tonal blue with warmer shoes.

N14

N14

LIGHT BLUE / NAVY / VEST / BLACK

Low-friction business in full tailoring.

N15

N15

LIGHT BLUE / BLACK / VEST / BLACK

Relaxed three-piece, open collar.

N16

N16

LIGHT BLUE / OPEN / VEST / BROWN LOAFERS

Low-friction business in full tailoring.

N17

N17

LIGHT BLUE / OPEN / VEST / NAVY LOAFERS

Relaxed three-piece, open collar.

N18

N18

LIGHT BLUE / BLA / VEST / BLACK

Low-friction business in full tailoring.

N19

N19

LIGHT BLUE / BLACK / NO VEST / BROWN

Sharper contrast without white.

N20

N20

LIGHT BLUE / DARK BROWN / NO VEST / BROWN

Business with a softer temperature.

N21

N21

LIGHT BLUE / NAVY / NO VEST / BROWN

The everyday blue business uniform.

N22

N22

LIGHT BLUE / OPEN / NO VEST / BROWN LOAFERS

Travel, lunch, creative meetings.

N23

N23

LIGHT BLUE / OPEN / NO VEST / NAVY LOAFERS

A relaxed daytime finish in tonal blue.

FILE 022 / THE TIMELINE

THE SUIT IS A LIVING HISTORY.

Court. City. Ceremony. Business. Your turn.

COURT DRESS MEETS NAVAL RESTRAINT.

THE CONVERGENCE

The modern navy suit does not come from one straight line. Its shape belongs to the long evolution of men's tailoring—from ornate eighteenth-century dress, through nineteenth-century coats, to the softer matching lounge suit that became the ancestor of the modern business suit.

Its color story carries another history: dark blue's long association with British naval uniform and the visual language of rank, discipline and command. One history gave us the silhouette. The other gave navy some of its lasting character.

History gave us the foundation.
What you do with it is your turn.

N24

N24

BLACK / BLACK / VEST / BLACK

The most severe tonal three-piece.

N25

N25

BLACK / DARK BROWN / VEST / BROWN

Full three-piece with warmth.
Evening formal.

N26

N26

BLACK / NAVY / VEST / BLACK

The complete tonal three-piece.
Maximum formality.

N27

N27

BLACK / BLACK / NO VEST / BLACK

Black on black, two-piece.
Modern evening.

N28

N28

BLACK / DARK BROWN / NO VEST / BROWN

Warm contrast for evening.

N29

N29

BLACK / NAVY / NO VEST / BLACK

Tonal with a visible navy center line.

N30

N30
BLACK / OPEN / NO VEST / BLACK LOAFERS

Modern evening ease. Open collar.

EDITORIAL / SCALE IS A DECISION

OWN THE SUIT

When the image changes, the foundation should still read.

Every look, decoded.

N01	WHITE / NAVY / VEST / BLACK	The cornerstone. Ceremony, leadership, formal daytime.
N02	WHITE / BLACK / VEST / BLACK	Sharper contrast for formal business or evening.
N03	WHITE / DARK BROWN / VEST / BROWN	Traditional foundation with warmer finishing.
N04	WHITE / NAVY / VEST / BROWN	Formal with a softer shoe temperature.
N05	WHITE / OPEN / VEST / BLACK LOAFERS	Tailored ease. Dinner, date, creative room.
N06	WHITE / OPEN / NO VEST / BROWN LOAFERS	Relaxed two-piece with warm finishing.
N07	WHITE / NAVY / NO VEST / BROWN	The dependable business uniform.
N08	WHITE / DARK BROWN / NO VEST / BROWN	Business with less severity.
N09	WHITE / BLACK / NO VEST / BLACK	Direct, clean and controlled.
N10	WHITE / OPEN / NO VEST / BROWN LOAFERS	Ease without giving up tailoring.
N11	WHITE / OPEN / NO VEST / BLACK LOAFERS	Evening ease in black and white.
N12	LIGHT BLUE / DARK BROWN / VEST / BROWN	Warm daytime tailoring in three pieces.
N13	LIGHT BLUE / NAVY / VEST / BROWN	Tonal blue with warmer shoes.
N14	LIGHT BLUE / OPEN / VEST / NAVY LOAFERS	Relaxed three-piece, open collar.

Every look, decoded.

N15	LIGHT BLUE / NAVY / VEST / BLACK	Low-friction business in full tailoring.
N16	LIGHT BLUE / BLACK / NO VEST / BROWN	Sharper contrast without white.
N17	LIGHT BLUE / DARK BROWN / NO VEST / BROWN	Business with a softer temperature.
N18	LIGHT BLUE / NAVY / NO VEST / BROWN	The everyday blue business uniform.
N19	LIGHT BLUE / OPEN / NO VEST / BROWN LOAFERS	Travel, lunch, creative meetings.
N20	LIGHT BLUE / OPEN / NO VEST / NAVY LOAFERS	A relaxed daytime finish in tonal blue.
N21	BLACK / BLACK / VEST / BLACK	The most severe tonal three-piece.
N22	BLACK / DARK BROWN / VEST / BROWN	Full three-piece with warmth. Evening formal.
N23	BLACK / NAVY / VEST / BLACK	The complete tonal three-piece. Maximum formality.
N24	BLACK / BLACK / NO VEST / BLACK	Black on black, two-piece. Modern evening.
N25	BLACK / DARK BROWN / NO VEST / BROWN	Warm contrast for evening.
N26	BLACK / NAVY / NO VEST / BLACK	Tonal with a visible navy center line.
N27	BLACK / OPEN / NO VEST / BLACK LOAFERS	Modern evening ease. Open collar.

FILE 031 / WHAT'S NEXT

Thirty down. Four suits to go.

BOOK 02 / THE GREY SUIT

The five-suit foundation continues. Journal readers get the next book first.

ENTER THE WORLD

parispullen.com

PRESENCE ARRIVES
BEFORE INTRODUCTION.

PARIS PULLEN / CHARLOTTE, NORTH CAROLINA

BE THE COMPLIMENT YOU WANT TO RECEIVE.

PARISPULLEN.COM